1. Introduction

1.1 Sustainability as a strategic priority

In 2019, Banco Bilbao Vizcaya Argentaria, S.A. (hereinafter “BBVA” or the “Bank”) embarked on a strategic reflection process to further deepen its transformation and adapt to the main trends that are changing the world and the financial sector. Two of the main trends identified are the fight against climate change and the growing importance of social inclusion.

In this context, the strategic plan approved by the Bank's Board of Directors in 2019 aims to accelerate this transformation and the achievement of its goal of “Making the opportunities of this new era accessible to all”. This plan includes six strategic priorities, including “helping customers transition to a sustainable future” and “improving the financial health of our customers”.

BBVA Asset Management, S.A., S.G.I.I.C. (hereinafter, BBVA AM or the Manager) has also included sustainability as one of its strategic priorities, in line with the strategy of the Group to which it belongs.

Combatting climate change constitutes a historic upheaval, bearing profound economic impacts. This challenge necessitates adaptation from all societal sectors, including governments, regulators, corporations, consumers, and the broader community.

This climate change, the shift towards a low-carbon economy and the imperative of biodiversity conservation and restoration profoundly affect the value chains across numerous industries, demanding substantial investments. Technological progress in areas such as energy efficiency, renewable energy, efficient transportation, and the circular economy presents fresh opportunities for all.

Additionally, there is a growing expectation from customers, markets, and society that large corporations should not only generate value but also contribute positively to societal welfare. Specifically, there is an anticipation that the economic growth they foster should be inclusive.

BBVA AM recognizes the central role that financial institutions play in steering the world towards sustainability through the management of customer assets.
